

Surfing and traveling: I Love the Seaside offers the best of both worlds, and a little more.

For this guide we traveled down Chile's endless coast from north to south. We stargazed in the arid desert in Norte Grande, found our way through green hills to stay in the lively surf hubs of Central Chile, then drove through the Lake District's ancient forests to explore the Chiloé archipelago in North Patagonia.

Any seaside lover can use this guide to find the best places to hang out, shop, or do other activities; like horse riding, yoga, hiking, biking, visiting a spa or getting a good massage. We aim for much, much more than checking when and where to surf, by giving you a good sense of the backdrop, the scenery and the atmosphere.

We guide you to the nicest seaside accommodations and coolest places to eat or enjoy a sunset beer, all to suit your budget.

AND THERE'S MORE!

Read our little snippets of info and insightful stories about interesting local people.

Feel inspired by photos of dazzling scenery and set-ups.

The I Love the Seaside Surf and Travel guide aims to inform, entertain and give a good read, all in one.